

THIRD MAJOR INDUSTRIAL PLANT LOCATED IN RUSHVILLE

Construction Will be Started at Once on Building for Indianapolis
Veneer Company

New Industry Coming to Rushville to Employ 40 Men, to be in operation Next Fall

FURNITURE FACTORY GOING UP

Endres-Tompkins Company to Begin Operations Next Week—Building Will be U Shape

With the acquirement of another new factory, the third major industrial enterprise to be located in Rushville during the past few months, there will be greater building activity here this summer than during any period in the history of the city.

It became definitely known today that the Indianapolis Veneer company would move to Rushville and erect a new building at the corner of Eleventh street and the Nickle Plate (L. E. & W.) railroad. Local men who were instrumental in bringing the concern to Rushville said today that they hoped to have the new plant constructed and in operation by September 1, or October 1, at the latest.

Actual construction of the Endres-Tompkins company's new furniture plant, on the north and west of the Rushville Furniture company's plant, will begin next week.
The third industrial plant located in Rushville within the past few months is the All Rite company, manufacturers of electrical appliances, which is established and operating daily on the second floor of the Ford building, employing forty persons.

The new plant of the Indianapolis Veneer company will be of brick and steel construction and will be L shape. The exact size of the building has not been determined.

The company will employ approximately forty men and will manufacture veneer for wood working plants.

The removal of the Indianapolis Veneer company to Rushville has been under consideration for some time, and the proposal has been before the Rushville Boosters club for the past week. The terms of the company's proposal were accepted and met, resulting in the contract for the site being drawn.

The site consists of two and one-half acres and is part of the late Theodore Abernethy estate. It was surveyed Friday so that a deed could be executed.

The site will not all be occupied and leaves ample space for expansion and the possible addition of allied industries.

The brick for the Endres-Tompkins company have been purchased and other materials have been contracted for, so that actual con-

Kenosha, Wis., Newspaper Man
Known Here Dies of Heart Trouble

Walter T. Marlatt, editor and chief owner of the Kenosha, Wis., News, and son of the late A. N. Marlatt, died of heart trouble at his home in Kenosha Friday noon, according to word received by relatives.

Mr. Marlatt had visited in Rushville when his sister, Mrs. J. H.
Scholl, and mother and other relatives resided here. He was also a brother of Earl B. and Ernest Marlatt, formerly school teachers in this county.

Mr. Marlatt was graduated from DePauw university and for thirty years lived in Kenosha, having devoted his entire life to newspaper work. He was a member of the Rotary club of Kenosha.

Besides brothers and sisters and the widow, the deceased leaves one daughter, Mary Una, who is a student in DePauw, and four sons, Walter T., Thomas, William and Byron.

building contractor, has been engaged as superintendent of construction.

A second survey has been made for the location of a Pennsylvania switch, which will be put in immediately.

The building will be in the form of a U shape, as originally planned, and will face in George street, first street west of the Rushville furniture company plant.

The front of the building will be 160 feet by sixty feet, and the two wings, running east and west, will be 400 feet by sixty feet and 380
feet by sixty feet, respectively.

The directors of the new company, together with Mr. Wilk, inspected brick at Crawfordsville, Ind., and Danville, Ill., recently, decided on the type of brick to be used and have placed the order.

Approximately 200,000 brick will be required to build the plant.

I. & C. IS AGAIN IN RECEIVERSHIP

Charles L. Henry is Appointed Re-
Here Late Friday

ACTION CALLED FRIENDLY

Appointment Made Upon Agreement Between Board of Directors and Plaintiff, a Stockholder

Rapidly declining business, and inability to meet expenses and financial burdens estimated at one hundred thousand dollars, are set out in a complaint for receivership filed in the Rush circuit court late Friday by Frederick D. Rose, banker of Muncie, against the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company, with general offices in this city.

A preliminary hearing in the matter was held by Judge Will M.
Sparks, and by agreement of the plaintiff and board of directors of the traction company, the court appointed Charles L. Henry of Indianapolis receiver for the company and ordered the operation of the line to continue.

Mr. Henry provided twenty-five thousand dollar bond, and the re-ceivership became effective at midnight, last night.

This is the second receivership proceedings through which the company has passed. On the other occasion, when the line was placed in the hands of receiver, who on that occasion was also Mr. Henry, it was operated for some time before it was reorganized, and then great hopes were held out for making the company a paying proposition so that it could be extended to Cincinnati. The world war, however, made it necessary to change all of the plans.

The litigation was characterized by Mr. Henry, who has been president of the company since its organization, and was the builder of the traction line, as being a friendly suit. The action had been discussed by the board of directors of the company in advance to the filing of the suit, according to Donald L.
Smith of this city, chief counsel for the company.

The complaint sets out that the company is bonded in the sum of two million, six hundred thousand, and has a million dollars in preferred stock and two million in common stock. The plaintiff in the action is one of the heavy stockholders in the company, it is alleged.

Outstanding debts which are pressing the company for immediate payment, are said to total one hundred thousand dollars, and the company does not have funds with which to pay these bills. The petition for receivership averred that unless a receivership was appointed at once, there was danger of law suits being filed, and that there was also danger of having the service suspended, if matters became involved in court.

The complaint alleged that a receiver should be appointed.

No Chance for Miss Madge Oberholtzer, Who Took Poison After Alleged Assault

NO COMMENT FROM ACCUSED

D. C. Stephenson Refuses to Discuss
Him Not Found

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 4—Miss Madge Oberholtzer, victim of an alleged attack by D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan of Indiana, was unconscious early today and physicians held lit-

The girl's brother, Marshall Oberholtzer, of Linton, Ind., submitted to a blood transfusion for his sister late yesterday but there was no change in her condition.

Miss Oberholtzer took poison after the attack for which Stephenson is under indictment. She was severely injured by her assailant, physicians said.

Stephenson was busy conferring with attorneys on the case and refused to discuss the charges in the indictment against him beyond saying that his political enemies had been on his trail for months.

SMALL BOY NARROWLY ESCAPES

Donald Westfall Hit by Automobile
But Not Badly Hurt

of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Westfall, 430 Cottage Avenue had a narrow escape from being run over by an automobile Friday, while crossing the street near his home. A truck driven by Floyd Roth, employed at Hargrove and Browns drug store, struck the little fellow a blow on the head, as the driver guided the car to one side in order to avoid hitting him. The fender is believed to have cut a gash on his forehead, and aside from the cut and bruises, the boy was not seriously hurt. The accident happened in Fifth street, near their home.

The driver of the machine was not held to blame as those who saw the accident assert that he steered the machine well to avoid striking the little fellow, who was confused

TO DO ONE THING WELL IS SUCCESS

Great Distinction Between Material and Spiritual Things, Evangelist

PAUL'S LIFE AN EXAMPLE

He Had Wealth, Power, Honor, But Put Them All Behind Him to Press on to High Calling

"To do one thing well is to succeed," Evangelist Edward Thomas stated Friday night in his sermon at the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, "and men that do one thing better than other men are usually commended and sought after."

He took his text from Philippians 3:13, "This one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Jesus Christ." He continued his sermon and said in part:

"However there is a great distinction between the material and spiritual. Probably no man ever lived that had a better opportunity to enjoy the material things than Paul, yet he counted them as nothing for Christ's sake. In fact, he gave them up. Wealth, power, honor were his.

"Paul surely knew his limitations, and writing for the ages to come, saw and realized that continuous trying was a virtue, so he said 'I press toward the prize of high calling in Jesus Christ.' To reach perfection we must keep striving but if we only succeed ma-

House Owned and Occupied by Norm Conde Northwest of City Burns to
The Ground

LOSS ESTIMATED AT $3,000

The residence owned and occupied by Norm Conde, located a mile northwest of Rushville, was totally destroyed by fire Friday afternoon shortly before three o'clock, and a loss of $3,000 resulted.

The roof caught fire from a defective flue or from sparks, and the blaze was spreading rapidly over the roof when discovered.

The local firemen were called and used the booster pump to save adjoining property, but the residence was too far gone.

Only a small amount of household goods were saved. Mr. Conde carried $1,000 insurance on the dwelling but none on the contents, it is understood.

The Big Four railroad passes close to the house and it is thought that the blaze may have started from a spark from an engine.

Final Session of Religious Education Meeting at Odd Fellows Temple Tonight

STATE WORKERS ON PROGRAM

Sessions Open with Address Friday Night by H. G. Rowe, Head of Work in Indiana

The first Rush County young people's conference of religious education, which began at the First Baptist church Friday night, was resumed this morning at 9:45 and was to close this evening at 6:30 with a banquet at the Odd Fellows Temple.

The principal address this morning was made by Miss Jane Farmer of Greencastle, county superintendent of the young people's division of Putnam county, on the topic
"Young People's Activities." A more elaborate program was planned for this afternoon, with workers from many parts of Indiana participating.

H. G. Rowe of Indianapolis, superintendent of the state young people's division, made the principal address Friday evening, pointing out four requirements for successful young people's work.

Miss Pauline Johnson of Milroy presided and Miss Mary Kitchen, also of Milroy, conducted the devotional, taking for the lesson the first chapter of Daniel, showing the importance of training youth. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Guy Hamilton of Milroy.

The first requirement for young people, Mr. Rowe said, is enthusiasm, but not the kind that is commonly called "pep". The latter, he asserted, is depended upon circumstances, and the most enthusiastic Christian is often quiet, but nothing can stop them.

young people who are enthusiastic about Christ," the speaker continued, "young people whom you can

Mr. Rowe commented on the growing desecration of the Sabbath and said that there were always plenty of people who were willing to violate the Lord's Day.

Another requirement for young people, state leader declared is pur-

Objections Filed in Court to Prevent American Paper Products

U. S. Court at St. Louis Postpones Action a Week, and Hearing in Rushville Will be Delayed

American Paper Products Company of Carthage, now involved in a re-ceivership, has been objected to by a firm in Kalamazoo, Mich., and a hearing on the plan to continue the business as advanced by the receivers, has been continued for a week.

The United States District court at St. Louis in which the proceedings were filed first, and also filed in the Rush circuit court later to obtain an ancillary receiver, approved the plan as suggested by the receivers, and continued the final decision until yesterday, but the objections were filed and the hearing will be heard next Friday.

The hearing on the matter locally was to have been held next Monday but the same objections were filed in court here Friday, and this will also delay the hearing Monday, it is believed.

The Kalamazoo firm has a claim against the factory for $6,000, and according to their objections, does not approve the plan as advanced by the receivership for the continuance of the business. This remonstrance will have to be taken up first in both courts, before the receivers can be ordered to proceed with the plan.

The Carthage Citizen this week has the following to say relative to the proposition:

The plan of reorganization in brief is that the General Creditors' Committee in conjunction with Walter P. Paepcke, president of the Chicago Mill and Lumber Company, and R. L. McClelland, vice president, will cause a new corporation to be organized called "Carthage Corporation," with total assets of $1,200,000 of which $200,000 constitutes the cash assets and $1,000,000 represents the plant and equipment. The liabilities are: 6% Bonds—$350,000; Class A 6%
Cum. Pref. $250,000; Class B 5%
Non Cum. Pref. $250,000; Common Stock, to be represented by net assets of $350,000.

The present mortgage is to be released and the new mortgage is to mature in 1941. A sinking fund calls for the payments of $10,000 per year for the five fiscal years of the mortgage ending in 1931; and at the rate of $20,000 per year for the next five years; and $30,000 per year for the next four years; and $80,000 for the next or last year of the mortgage.

The Carthage Corporation is,
when ready for operation, to be clear of any liability except for the new mortgage and the capital stock.

The general creditors are to receive cash of approximately twenty cents on the dollar of their claims and approximately eight cents on the dollar in Class A and Class B preferred stock of the Carthage Corporation and $25,000 in pre-

Trouble Caused by Getting Up Too Soon. Relieved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Taleville, New York. — "I thought it would interest you to know what benefit I have derived from taking your medicine. A few days after the birth of my third child I got up too quick. Then just before my fifth child was born I had inflammation of the bladder and displacement. Seeing your advertisement in a Liverpool (England) paper I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and that was the best confinement I had. Whenever I feel run-down I always take the Vegetable Compound as a tonic. We have just removed from Brockville (Canada) so I was pleased when the store ordered the medicine for me and I got it today. I would not be without it for any price and I recommend it to ladies around here because I feel so sure it will benefit any woman who takes it." — Mrs. AGNES WIGNALL, Taleville, New York.

Women can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve them from ills peculiar to their sex. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Receivership would benefit all parties, and that it would not interfere with the present plans of the company to extend the line from this city to Cincinnati. Such a receivership, the suit sets out, would enable them to proceed with their financial plans of extending the line.

The business of the company has declined rapidly since January seventeenth, the complaint says. A few weeks ago the passenger rates were reduced one third on round trip tickets, in an effort to increase patronage.

The Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company owns and operates about one hundred and fifty miles of interurban railway lines, including main track and siding. One line extends from Indianapolis, through Rushville, to Connersville. The other line extends from Indianapolis to Greensburg, through Shelbyville. Both lines have been in operation for more than twenty years, but during the last eight years the company's financial position has not been strong. In common with other traction utilities since the close of the world war, operating costs have mounted and the company, too, has had to compete with motor bus companies which has resulted in decreased earnings, especially in handling local passenger traffic.

More than a year ago the company, because of reduced earning capacity, due partly to motor bus competition, defaulted interest payments on the outstanding bonds of the company. The preferred stockholders of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company, which was absorbed by the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company, have not received any dividends for several years. The two merged companies—the Indianapolis, Shelbyville & Southeastern company and the Indianapolis & Southeastern—have total outstanding bonds in the sum of $1,000,000 in addition to securities floated by the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company.

"The financial difficulties of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company have increased rapidly, especially in the last three months," said Mr. Henry upon his return from Rushville to Indianapolis.

"This has been due partly to the new business depression. The directors in considering the matter today decided it was in the best interests of the bondholders, general creditors and stockholders that a receiver be appointed in order to hold the company in status quo and thus enable it in the interests of everybody to press forward with pending negotiations looking to the extension of the line from Rushville to Cincinnati.

Speaking of the recent purchase of new equipment, Mr. Henry said: "We are all wonderfully pleased with the new cars and power equipment put in last summer. The new cars and the service given have been and still are the delight of our patrons, and careful study of the results shows that this is strongly true—true enough to increase our passenger receipts for the last nine months above 15 per cent over what they would have been without the new equipment.

"This improvement is there, ready to connect with the line from Rushville to College Hill, if built, so as to give through service from Indianapolis to Cincinnati."

Several months ago reports were heard of a proposed purchase of control of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company by the Insight. It is not enough to love the created things and not love the creator. You may enjoy the garden and never get acquainted with the gardener. Our churches are full of splendid folk that have never been on intimate terms with the gardener. This alone will cost their soul.

"No Paul was right above all, prior to all. One can only be saved by accepting and confessing Jesus, the gardener, I believe in law. God as a creator could devise a law and did. He also created man and to me it wasn't necessary for a God so infinitely wise to evolve man from a lower order as some contend that he did. He simply did the job at once and said it was good. He also made a law of moral choice. Man can make laws in a material way but no man can make a law that will make men good. There may be an outward conforming through fear of penalty.

"Our God planned man's salvation and his plan and law is through Jesus Christ alone. Unless you believe Him to be God's son sent in accord with the biblical account, then I do not believe you can be saved.

"In Matthew 10:40 'he that receiveth you receiveth me, and he that receiveth me receiveth Him that sent me,' and again in Luke 10:16, 'he that rejecteth me, rejecteth Him that sent me.' Notice the law, either you reject or receive. No man need obey the law, but there is a penalty for disobedience.

"Luke 19:10 states 'For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.' Some might say, just to do one thing would make me a religious crank. I say better be a religious crank than a lost critic. Some might say, that would be too narrow. No, I say to do one thing well is manly. It takes courage, concentration and confidence.

The Retail Merchant

The small retail merchant generally regards himself as a small cog in the elaborate mechanism that constitutes American business, but that does not appear to be the view of business itself.

What the latter thinks of the retailer was expressed by Richard P. Grant, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, in a recent address:

"The retail merchant of this great land of ours has a sacred trust in his hands, because he is the point of contact between business and the great run of American citizens. The viewpoint of the American citizen regarding business is largely crystallized and molded and formed by the retail merchant because, as I have said, he constitutes the great point of contact between the citizenry of the country and business."

When the retail merchant realizes his importance in our present business structure, and that he is in business to satisfy human desires, he is much more likely to appreciate his responsibility to the people whom he serves.

By his conduct in the business world, people form their conceptions of business as a whole. Whenever a retail merchant engages in unethical practices or is guilty of dealings that will not stand close scrutiny, he injures the whole business structure.

His fellow merchants as well as himself suffer because the customer who suffers loses confidence in all business men.

The retail merchant who places the customer's satisfaction above his own profits will profit in the long run and is a distinct asset to any community.

Our Debt in The Past

The present holds much of interest and much gossip, and the future great hopes, but we must go to the past for history.

The world has been so full of thrills for ten years that the past has almost dropped out of sight. The younger generation—perhaps no more than the youth of any other age—too often shows a silent contempt for the past.

Not all of the people who have gone before us were old-fashioned. They were up-to-date in their time, also.

this community would not have made the progress that it has.

It would not be as prosperous as it is, would not have the advantages that it now possesses, would be lacking in many of the essentials of modern life, if it had not been for the thoughtfulness of those who have passed on.

Our debt to the past is too great not to give it due recognition, and our debt to the future also is deserving of thoughtful consideration.

The condition of this community fifty years from now depends in some measure on what we do today. This is something well worth remembering in solving community problems that arise from day to day.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican

While working in the yard yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Dan O'Kief of Gings stumbled and fell, breaking a rib on the right side of her body. She was able to walk to the house and Dr. D. VanOsdel was called and attended to her injuries.

Lost child stories have been rife the past few weeks but one was in progress last night which had every aspect of becoming a "thriller". Many people were on the hunt of Newel, the six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Finney of Third street most of the evening and all sorts of predictions were made as to the whereabouts. The police were put on his trail without any success and women, who were interested in the affair, paraded the streets for the youngster. But about eighty-thirty o'clock came the climax to the incident that had aroused all the people down town. The youth, who had all unthoughtlessly caused so much pain and worry, came walking in home with a string of fish that any veteran fisherman would be proud of.

When the city council meets in regular session tonight the question as to whether or not Perkins street from Seventh street to the alley back of the county jail will be paved, will be settled.

Dr. John Lee of Winchester is here the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lee and family in West First street. He expects to locate in Denver, Colo., soon.

Miss Florence Frazier, has returned from an extended visit through the west, where she went with a concert company. For the past week she has been the guest of Miss Margaret Mitchell in Phoenix, Arizona.

Mrs. O. P. Dillon, Miss Grace Frazier and Russell Kirkpatrick were in Indianapolis yesterday and attended the "College Chap" last night.

Newcastle Courier: Masters Fred Osborne and Jerome Caron returned to Rushville this morning after having spent Sunday with the Wallaces.

Claude Simpson, editor of the Daily Republican, who has been confined to his home in North Jackson street for the past two weeks with malaria fever and pleurisy, is recovering.

Elmer Caldwell has sold a new four passenger baby tonneau Regal automobile to Joe Cowing.

City Carrier Heber Allen is suffering from an attack of the gripe. Lon Kennedy is substituting for him.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bell who have been making their home in Indianapolis are the guests of relatives in this city Mr. and Mrs. Bell will leave in about two weeks for Pensacola, Florida, where they will reside permanently. Miss Bell was formerly Miss Nola Ash of this city.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — "The Metamorphosis of Mellon" might well be the title of a character study of the slender, soft-spoken secretary of the treasury, dealing with him as he was when he came to Washington four years ago and as he is today.

Official life has brought Mellon "out of his shell." As a private capitalist and financier, Mellon led a life of seclusion. His detachment was well-nigh ironclad and impenetrable. Even in his home town of Pittsburgh, he was more of a tradition than a flesh-and-blood human being. He frequented no clubs. He attended few functions. Secretaries and functionaries hedged him about with a wall of exclusiveness that made him well-nigh inaccessible.

As a member of the cabinet, Mellon's human contacts have broadened. Not only have his official duties brought him in direct touch with a greater number and a more varied range of individuals, but the social necessities of his position have assisted in the thawing out process. Dinners, receptions, public and semi-public functions of many kinds have claimed his attendance. And while these are understood at first to have been the bane of his life, they are so no longer. Where he first endured them, he now actually enjoys them.

FRIENDS who have watched this metamorphosis in Mellon declare that he is today a younger and happier man than he has been for years. The icy reserve of the private capitalist has melted. The hard exterior of the chilled steel financier has melted. He is shedding his exclusiveness. He is mixing more with men. He is getting to like folks and affairs. And what in Mellon's case is regarded as final and conclusive proof of the change that has taken place in him—he is even making public speeches! Within a week, this month, Mellon spoke at a banquet at Richmond, Va., was guest of honor at a reception at the Cosmos Club, Washington, and officiated at the burning of the mortgage on the National Press Club here. No one can imagine the Mellon of four years ago participating in any such gregarious festivities.

In the light of Mellon's apparently increasing interests in life, few folks here feel that he is even considering resigning his job, as is rumored from time to time. While admitting that he was reluctant to enter public life, they believe he would leave it now with even greater regret.

ANTI-PROHIBITIONISTS are up in arms over what they term "sacriligious" changes made in the Holy Bible in a recent "shorter version" of the Holy Writ recently issued.

The effort, according to wet advocates, has been to make a Bible to conform to what a prohibitionist thinks the Bible should be, rather than to present the true teachings of the biblical sages.

"In every instance where the word 'wine' is favorably mentioned in the Bible," says Captain W. H. Stayton, "it has been deleted or the meaning completely changed in the 'shorter Bible.'"

"But in every instance where wine and strong drink are mentioned unfavorably, these references are retained. All reference to the marriage feast at Cana, including Christ's first miracle, the changing of water into wine, has been suppressed by these censors of the Lord's works."

"Undoubtedly," says Stayton, "it is the plan of the drys to replace the Holy Bible in the home with the censored Bible. But if that is true the drys are doomed, for the original Bible says, in the last chapter of Revelation: 'If any man take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the Book of Life.'"

The Munhall meetings were held about 1884 in the Christian church, now the K. of P. Hall? These were perhaps the greatest protracted union revival services ever held in Rushville and great numbers were converted.

The Murphy temperance meetings were held in Melodeon Hall and half the town signed the pledge and donned the blue ribbon?

One spring years ago, the Ochiltree boy was drowned in Flatrock at the C. I. and W. bridge east of town during high waters? His body was later recovered at the Big Four bridge over Flatrock.

Colored camp meetings were held in the Brown grove north of Rushville and the white brethren attended to see the "shouting?"

In that winter in the eighties (about 1884), Norm Conde had a skating rink where Oneal's Implement store now is and when Johnny Guffin had a rink where Thomas's Poultry House now is? It was in the latter rink as the writer recalls it that Dick Smith, Rushville's fastest skater, and our own Eddie Pitman then of Cambridge City, and a "phenom" raced, the Rushville champion being outdistanced.

A great fox chase was to be held at the fair grounds east of Rushville, and after the fox was turned loose, Lewis Sexton's black and white pet dog, not a hound at all, and which had followed Lewis out there, took after the fox, which resulted in the hounds being turned loose prematurely, the immediate capture and death of the fox and the ruin of what had been anticipated as a "perfect day" of sport?

In Exhibition Games Against Formidable Competition the Giants
Have Shown Best Form

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 4—With the exception of the Chicago Cubs, all of the major league baseball teams are showing fine condition in the exhibi-
home from their training camps.

Unusually good weather during the training season helped the team to get into good advance and put
be an important factor in deciding the pennant in each league.

The Cubs are badly handicapped by the crippling of Rabbit Maranville, who broke his leg in a training game. Other teams were lucky in avoiding the accidents that they flirt with when they play on sand lot diamonds and rough outfields.

Frank Frisch and Freddy Lindstrom, two of the stars of the New York Giants were injured, but they will be ready to start the season.

In the exhibition games against formidable competition, the Giants have shown the best form. The team advanced so quickly in fact, that John McGraw had to order them to slow up to avoid the danger of going stale.

Too much stock cannot be taken however, in the form shown in these exhibition games and much depends upon the policy of the management.
It will be recalled that the Brooklyn Robins looked like one of the worst teams in the Major leagues last year in the spring, in their games against the New York Yankees and that the Yankees looked like sure American League champ-

(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, April 4—Attention has been drawn previously to the outstanding athletic attractions that are listed on the 1925 schedule.
Just as interesting for discussion are several that are not listed and they may never be staged.

could attract the international interest that would develop over a match for the world's woman's tennis championship between Miss Hel-ions. Yet the Robins only missed the National League pennant by two games and the Yankees were nosed out by the Washington Senators.

The spirit of the players has much to do also with the form
Giants are a team of hustlers who do not like to lose a game.

games are just spring games and that there is no reason to go out and risk a salary arm or a leg in a game that does not count.

The Washington Senators did not look like world's series players in their exhibition games with the New York Giants but their disappointing showing does not mean that they are a poor ball club or a coming loser in the American League pennant race. The Senators do not seem to be alarmed because they have lost a few games while it seems to be a matter of world importance to the Giants to show up the team that beat them last fall.

The Yankees are in good condition and the splendid form being shown by Babe Ruth seems to have inspired a team of players that has been rather blasé.

en Wills, the American and Olympic champion, and Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the former Wimbledon and European champion.

Cables to remote parts of the globe were hooked up with Forest Hills several years ago when Mlle.
Lenglen started to play Mrs. Molla Mallory, the American champion, in a match that was virtually, if not officially, for the world's championship.

The retirement of the French star when she was being defeated in that match, her retirement in the Wimbledon championships last summer and her withdrawal from the Olympic championships have developed an interest in woman's tennis that could be arranged.

The situation as it exists now warrants a prediction that Miss Wills and Mlle. Lenglen never will meet on the courts because the French star does not care to play the young American girl.

The etiquette of tennis and the culture of a lady do not permit Miss Wills to force a match for the world's championship. She cannot travel around challenging the French girl, not only because she is too modest to do it, but because such things "aren't done" as the English put it. The Wills-Lenglen question could be decided only in a regular way by having the two stars entered in some recognized

Two such opportunities were presented last year and when they failed to result in a meeting, it is doubtful that a meeting ever can
be arranged. Since Mlle. Lenglen declined to go through the Wimbledon tournament and refused to enter the Olympic tennis matches, there is very little chance that she would enter any tournaments in the future in which Miss Wills was one of the competitors.

TWO women went out to buy a certain expensive labor-saving device for the home.

One was greatly disappointed when, a few days later, they compared notes. She had bought the same product that many of her friends had owned.

The other woman had secured a greatly improved new product — costing less, but of much more value.

"If I had only known there was a better one," the first woman said, "I would never have bought this old one."

"I had just read about it in an advertisement," explained the wise buyer.

Every day you miss good news of an improvement in different articles of merchandise — unless you read the advertise-

OUR young lady is writing her social correspondence on Corona. Is this good etiquette? Lillian Eichler, author of the "Book of Etiquette," after telling how she wrote this famous book entirely with Corona, says: "My 'Book of Etiquette' encourages the use of the typewriter for social correspondence."

It is a breach of etiquette to allow letters to go unanswered for weeks, but a busy man or woman finds plenty of excuses for postponing the tiresome task. With Corona at your elbow, letter-writing acquires a new interest, and that is why many people of social prominence use Corona for all their correspondence. Coronatyping is easier, faster and more legible than handwriting.

CLAIMS RESIDENCE IN RUSHVILLE, IND.

C. Turner, Charged With Transporting Liquor and Burglary at Hammond, Not Known Here

Given 35 Days in State Penal Farm and Fined $100 and Costs on Liquor Charge

Hammond, Ind., April 4—Four quarts of Three Star Hennessy brought seeds of bad luck to C. Turner who says his home is at Rushville, Ind. Because of them Turner has already drawn 35 days on the penal farm and they were instrumental in placing a burglary charge against him.

Turner was tried in Hammond police court for transporting liquor and pleaded guilty hoping that would end his troubles. But it didn't.

Later neighbors noticed that a window was open at the M. Rothschild home, 859 Hohman st. Investigation showed some underwear and men's clothes had been stolen. In the basement four suggestive round rings were found on a shelf, indicating that the spots had recently been vacated.

Monday evening Officers Downey, Sommer and Norbeck were called to the Harrison Park neighborhood and in the course of their rounds they came upon Turner on Lyman street. He couldn't give a satisfactory account of himself so he was taken to the station. Turner had a quart of Three Star Hennessy in his pocket.

He was tried for transporting liquor and admitted his guilt. He said he brought it from Peru, Indiana, and that it was good stuff. He was given $100 and costs and 35 days.

Detectives continued their questioning and he finally confessed that he had four bottles of the liquor at one time but disposed of three. Later he admitted that he had robbed the Rothschild home.

The name of C. Turner, mentioned above, is not listed in the Rushville city directory, and is unknown here. The man has probably given a fictitious name, or has claimed Rushville as his home to divert officers from his real place of residence.

PAINFULLY BURNED

Mrs. Sam Young sustained a very painful injury this morning while attempting to clean a fire grate at her home in North Perkins street with gasoline. The heat from the grate caused the gasoline to explode, burning both of her hands severely. She narrowly averted catching her clothing afire, which might have resulted in a more serious injury. She and her husband left after the accident to spend a few days with their grandson, Gay McBride and wife, of Mays.

The third requirement he mentioned was initiative. No one ever dreamed anything into existence the speaker said. "The only difference between Abe Lincoln and the kid across the road, when his fire shovel was whittled away, he quit and Abe made a new one."

Devotion to the work of the kingdom was the fourth requirement laid down by Mr. Rowe. He referred to the scripture lesson, saying that Daniel was devoted and God was with him in the testing time.

The speaker closed with a reference to his experiences on the fighting line in France, and said that he wanted young people, when they met their master, to be able to say, "You ordered it, captain, and it is done."

CHAPMAN CONFIDENT OF ESCAPING DEATH PENALTY

TO MEET AGAIN AT 10 A. M.

Hartford, Conn., April 4—Gerald Chapman awoke this morning confident that he had escaped a death verdict from his hand-picked jury.

When the 12 New England veniremen were sent to bed last night by Judge Newell Jennings after deliberating to no decision for eight hours, a smile swept the face of the lean, imperturbable Chapman.

"If they couldn't agree in that time, they will never agree," the bandit said to his chief counsel, Judge Goehl. "Don't worry about

The Glee Club is made up of the best singers from among more than 3,000 students at the University, and their program last night was splendid, ranging from classical numbers to the old time melodies and the more popular numbers. The voices, twenty-four in number, blended melodiously, and each of their numbers was highly applauded. Special numbers on the program included a tenor solo, violin solo, cornet solo and trombone solo.

The orchestra numbers were very entertaining and the members proved themselves to be real musicians. They are now playing a year's engagement at the Princess Theatre in Bloomington. After the program at the auditorium, they provided music for a dance at the Social Club rooms.

Goehl shared Chapman's confidence.

"It looks very favorable indeed," he said as he bade his client good night.

The jury was excused for the night shortly after 10:30 when the foreman declared no verdict was in sight and that it was perfectly agreeable to terminate the deliberations.

Judge Jennings ordered the 12 men to resume at 10 a. m., today.

The following composition was written by Helen Kennedy, a Junior, in an assignment for a descriptive sketch of a person whom you might use as the chief character in a story:

I still remember that fine noble face which I always saw in the window of the corner house every morning as I went to my dreary work. The memory of that face is happy yet sad, lightened many hours of toil. He was by profession, a bishop which he had long ago deserted. He was formerly a tall, straight and handsome man, with a ruddy complexion, dark kindly eyes and black wavy hair. No longer was he straight and tall but crippled and bent. To save a child he had sacrificed himself. Now, his face was pale and wrinkled, his wavy hair almost white and his eyes not quite so twinkling. There was something in his face which instantly caused pity but stronger than pity, respect. One felt that to know this gentleman would be to come within closer touch with God.

Movies

"Tiger Thompson," Castle
Harry Carey is the most human two-gun man on the screen! If there had been any doubt about it before, he proved it to everyone's complete satisfaction yesterday at the Castle theatre, where his new picture, "Tiger Thompson," opened a two days' engagement.

"Tiger Thompson" has all the action, drama, thrills and spirit of the great outdoors that admirers of the Western screen love, but it also has something more—a note of realism, of downright humanness that few pictures of this type possess.

In his portrayal of the reformed bandit, whose efforts to go straight provide temptations that threaten to break down his better resolves, he gives a portrayal that is convincing at all times. An ex-bandit he may be, but the spectator sympathizes with him in his struggles to do right, and cheers him on to the victory which he finally achieves.

"Babbitt" at Princess

"Babbitt," which opened yesterday at the Princess theatre for a week's run, is an unusual photoplay. Every effort was made to put across the same convincing sledgehammer blows of portraiture and realism that made Sinclair Lewis' book such a best seller. In doing this Warner Brothers believe they have poured the requisite stuff into the mould of the picture, so that the great army of average film fans might be carried away by its story. They have succeeded.

"Babbitt" runs the whole gamut of American life. There is the dull, drab respectability of the Babbitt family at their dour breakfast. There are torrid scenes between the fat, egotistical hero and his charmer, Tanis.

The real estate office appears as true to life as the one down the street. And the jail scene is another piece of faithful realism.

Union City—Fights have been reported here as a result of activities of assessors in hunting down delinquent taxes.

PALM SUNDAY, PASSION WEEK WILL BE OBSERVED

Tomorrow Will Usher in Week of Special Meetings at First Presbyterian Church

"HIS LAST WEEK", SUBJECT

Palm Sunday will be appropriately observed at the First Presbyterian church. It will be Decision Day in the Sunday school. At the morning service Miss Helen Jaehne will sing "The Palms." The pastor, the Rev. Gibson Wilson will continue his Easter series of sermons and preach on the subject "The Resurrection Credible."

In the evening service at 7:30 Robert Gantner will render a cornet solo and the Young Peoples choir will give special numbers. The pastor will give a description of Palm Sunday and its meaning under the subject, "King For a Day." This marks the beginning of a week of special meetings preceding the Easter Communion.

"His Last Week" will be the subject of study each night. The events of each day will be studied as they occurred. This will be of special interest to Christian people. Jesus will be followed in the events of each day as He approaches His death. Great interest attaches to these days commonly called Passion Week. The significance is not in the days as such but in what has been done for the salvation of men. Many people throughout the land will make use of these opportunities to follow the Christ as He goes to His crucifixion. The pastor gives invitation to all people to attend these services each night.

11TH AND NICKLE PLATE ROAD

New Industry Coming to Rush to Employ 40 Men, to be in

gin Operations Next Week—
Building Will be U Shape

With the acquirement of another
Rushville during the past few
the city.

that the Indianapolis Veneer com-
lyzing the concern to Rushville
ber 1, at the latest.

dres-Tompkins company's new fur-
of the Rushville Furniture company's plant, will begin next week.

forty persons.

ing has not been determined.

The company will employ approx-
plants.

The removal of the Indianapolis
the site being drawn.

be executed.

and leaves ample space for expansion and the possible addition of allied industries.

The brick for the Endres-Tompkins company have been purchased and other materials have been con-
struction can start next week.

auditor and an experienced road and

Walter T. Marlatt, editor and chief
owner of the Kenosha, Wis., News,
and son of the late A. N. Marlatt,
to word received by relatives.

Mr. Marlatt had visited in Rush-
ville when his sister, Mrs. J. H.
Scholl, and mother and other rela-
county.

Mr. Marlatt was graduated from DePaul university and for thirty
tary club of Kenosha.

daughter, Mary Una, who is a student in DePaul, and four sons,
ron.

struction.

switch, which will be put in immediately.

of L shape, and will face in Indiana State Library and will face in George Washington first street west
plant.

wings, running east and west, will
feet by sixty feet, respectively.

pany, together with Mr. Wink, inspected brick at Crawfordsville, Ind., and Danville, Ill., recently, decided on the type of brick to be used and have placed the order.

be required to build the plant.

Charles L. Henry is Appointed Re-

Friday by Frederick D. Rose, banker of Muncie, against the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction com-
city.

A preliminary hearing in the matter was held by Judge Will M.
appointed Charles L. Henry of In-
line to continue.

Mr. Henry provided twenty-five
night, last night.

that occasion was also Mr. Henry,
great hopes were held out for making the company a paying proposition so that it could be extended to Cincinnati. The world war, however,
made it necessary to change all of the plans.

The litigation was characterized
by Mr. Henry, who has been president of the company since its or-
the suit, according to Donald L.
the company.

two million, six hundred thousand,
and has a million dollars in pre-

dred thousand dollars, and the com-
volved in court.

D. C. Stephenson Refuses to Discuss

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., April 4—Miss
Madge Oberholtzer, victim of an alleged attack by D. C. Stephenson,

change in her condition.

the attack for which Stephenson is
said.

Stephenson was busy conferring
indictment against him beyond say-
been on his trail for months.

But Not Badly Hurt

of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Westfall, 430
Cottage Avenue had a narrow escape
was not seriously hurt. The accident happened in Fifth street, near his home.

The driver of the machine was

and Spiritual Things, Evangelist

Press on to High Calling

church, "and men that do one thing

toward the mark for the prize of
the high calling of God in Jesus
and said in part:

"However there is a great dis-
were his.

tinuous trying was a virtue, so he said 'I press toward the prize of
high calling in Jesus Christ.' To reach perfection we must keep

Conde Northwest of City Burns to

The residence owned and occupied

roof when discovered.

was too far gone.

tion Meeting at Odd Fellows Temple Tonight

The first Rush County young people's conference of religious education, which began at the First Baptist church Friday night, was re-
banquet at the Odd Fellows Temple.

The principal address this morn-
of Greencastle, county superintendent of the young people's division
more elaborate program was plan-
participating.

H. G. Rowe of Indianapolis, superintendent of the state young people's division, made the principal
young people's work.

Miss Pauline Johnson of Milroy
presided and Miss Mary Kitchen,
tionals, taking for the lesson the first chapter of Daniel, showing the
Hamilton of Milroy.

people, Mr. Rowe said, is enthusiasm, but not the kind that is com-
asserted, is dependent upon circum-
can stop them.

about Christ," the speaker contin-

Mr. Rowe commented on the
to violate the Lord's Day.

U. S. Court at St. Louis Postpones

American Paper Products Company
hearing on the plan to continue the
business as advanced by the receivers, has been continued for a week.

at St. Louis in which the proceed-
will be heard next Friday.

also delay the hearing Monday, it is believed.

according to their objections, does
for the receivership for the continuance of the business. This remon-
with the plan.

the proposition:

The plan of reorganization in-
Walter P. Paepcke, president of the Chicago Mill and Lumber Company,
and R. L. McClelland, vice president, will cause a new corporation
$1,200,000 of which $200,000 constitutes the cash assets and $1,000,000 represents the plant and equipment. The liabilities are: 6%
Bonds—$350,000; Class A 6%
Cum. Pref. $250,000; Class B 5%
Non Cum. Pref. $250,000; Common
sets of $350,000.

The present mortgage is to be re-
calls for the payments of $10,000
per year for the five fiscal years of
year for the next four years; and
the mortgage.

The Carthage Corporation is,
new mortgage and the capital stock.

and approximately eight cents on
the dollar in Class A and Class B
preferred stock of the Carthage Corporation and $25,000 in pre-

Trouble Caused by Getting

Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Talville, New York. "I thought it would interest you to know what benefited me. I have derived from taking your medicine. A few days after the birth of my third child I got up too quick. Then just before my fifth child was born I had inflammation of the bladder and displacement. Seeing your advertisement in a Liverpool (England) paper I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and that was the best confinement I had. Whenever I feel run-down I always take the Vegetable Compound as a tonic. We have just returned from Brockville (Canada) so I was pleased when the store ordered the medicine for me and I got it today. I would not be without it for any price and I recommend it to ladies around here because I feel so sure it will benefit any woman who takes it."—Mrs. AGNES WIGNALL, Talville, New York.

ceivership would benefit all parties, and that it would not interfere with the present plans of the company to extend the line from this city to Cincinnati. Such a receivership, the suit sets out, would enable them to proceed with their financial plans of extending the line.
The Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company owns and operates about one hundred and fifty miles of interurban railway lines, including main track and siding. One line extends from Indianapolis, through Rushville, to Connersville. The other line extends from Indianapolis to Greensburg, through Shelbyville. Both lines have been in operation for more than twenty years, but during the last eight years the company's financial position has not been strong. In common with other traction utilities since the close of the world war, operating costs have mounted and the company, too, has had to compete with motor bus companies which has resulted in decreased earnings, especially in handling local passenger traffic.
More than a year ago the company, because of reduced earning capacity, due partly to motor bus competition; defaulted interest payments on the outstanding bonds of the company. The preferred stockholders of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company, which was absorbed by the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company, have not received any dividends for several years. The two merged companies—the Indianapolis, Shelbyville & Southeastern company and the Indianapolis & Southeastern—have total outstanding bonds in the sum of $1,000,000 in addition to securities floated by the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company.
"The financial difficulties of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company have increased rapidly, especially in the last three months," said Mr. Henry upon his return from Rushville to Indianapolis.
"This has been due partly to the new business depression. The directors in considering the matter today decided it was in the best interests of the bondholders, general creditors and stockholders that a receiver be appointed in order to hold the company in status quo and thus enable it in the interests of everybody to press forward with pending negotiations looking to the extension of the line from Rushville to Cincinnati.
Speaking of the recent purchase of new equipment, Mr. Henry said: "We are all wonderfully pleased with the new cars and power equipment put in last summer. The new cars and the service given have been and still are the delight of our patrons, and careful study of the results shows that this is strongly true—true enough to increase our passenger receipts for the last nine months above 15 per cent over what they would have been without the new equipment."
"This improvement is there, ready to connect with the line from Rushville to College Hill, if built, so as to give through service from Indianapolis to Cincinnati."
Several months ago reports were heard of a proposed purchase of control of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company by the Insight. It is not enough to love the created things and not love the creator. You may enjoy the garden and never get acquainted with the gardener. Our churches are full of splendid folk that have never been on intimate terms with the gardener. This alone will cost their soul.

"No Paul was right above all, prior to all. One can only be saved by accepting and confessing Jesus, the gardener, I believe in law. God as a creator could deviate law and did. He also created man and to me it wasn't necessary for a God so infinitely wise to evolve man from a lower order as some contend that he did. He simply did the job at once and said it was good. He also made a law of moral choice. Man can make laws in a material way but no man can make a law that will make men good. There may be an outward conforming through fear of penalty.
"Our God planned man's salvation and his plan and law is through Jesus Christ alone. Unless you believe Him to be God's son sent in accord with the biblical account, then I do not believe you can be saved.
"In Matthew 10:40 'he that receiveth you receiveth me, and he that receiveth me receiveth Him that sent me,' and again in Luke 10:16, 'he that rejecteth me, rejecteth Him that sent me.' Notice the law, either you reject or receive. No man need obey the law, but there is a penalty for disobedience.
"Luke 19:10 states 'For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.' Some might say, just to do one thing would make me a religious crank. I say better be a religious crank than a lost critter. Some might say, that would be too narrow. No, I say 'to do one thing well is mainly. It takes courage, concentration and continuity to be a real christian. If we like Paul, do one thing well, let that one thing be the biggest thing in your life, enthroned Jesus, then press forward to the mark of high calling. Being born of God through Jesus Christ is all that will avail any man.

"We must one day stand stripped of all earthly honor and glory and can't you say as Paul, 'this one thing I do.' God made a just law and all men are equal in his sight. We make our own decisions. Will we say 'this one thing I do,' do it now.
"Is your dance keeping you away from God? Are your card parties keeping you away? Is it some little sin in your heart, something you love too much to give up? Are you willing to lay all your prejudices aside?
"Why not say this one thing I do, confess Him with my mouth and love Him with my whole heart and 'press toward the mark of high calling in Jesus Christ.'
"May you not realize when it is too late that you are lost."

The small retail merchant generally regards himself as a small cog in the elaborate mechanism that constitutes American business, but that does not appear to be the view of business itself.

What the latter thinks of the retailer was expressed by Richard F. Grant, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, in a recent address:

"The retail merchant of this great land of ours has a sacred trust in his hands, because he is the point of contact between business and the great run of American citizens. The viewpoint of the American citizen regarding business is largely crystallized and molded and formed by the retail merchant because, as I have said, he constitutes the great point of contact between the citizenry of the country and business."

When the retail merchant realizes his importance in our present business structure, and that he is in business to satisfy human desires, he is much more likely to appreciate his responsibility to the people whom he serves.

By his conduct in the business world, people form their conceptions of business as a whole. Whenever a retail merchant engages in unethical practices or is guilty of dealings that will not stand close scrutiny, he injures the whole business structure.

His fellow merchants as well as himself suffer because the customer who suffers loses confidence in all business men.

The retail merchant who places the customer's satisfaction above his own profits will profit in the long run and is a distinct asset to any community.

The present holds much of interest and much gossip, and the future great hopes, but we must go to the past for history.

The world has been so full of thrills for ten years that the past has almost dropped out of sight. The younger generation—perhaps no more than the youth of any other age—too often shows a silent contempt for the past.

Not all of the people who have gone before us were old-fashioned. They were up-to-date in their time, else

It would not be as prosperous as it is, would not have the advantages that it now possesses, would be lacking in many of the essentials of modern life, if it had not been for the thoughtfulness of those who have passed on.

The condition of this community fifty years from now depends in some measure on what we do today. This is something well worth remembering in solving community problems that arise from day to day.

While working in the yard yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Dan O'Kief of Gings stumbled and fell, breaking a rib on the right side of her body. She was able to walk to the house and Dr. D. VanOsdel was called and attended to her injuries.

Lost child stories have been rife the past few weeks but one was in progress last night which had every aspect of becoming a "thriller". Many people were on the hunt of Newel, the six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Finney of Third street most of the evening and all sorts of predictions were made as to the whereabouts. The police were put on his trail without any success and women, who were interested in the affair, paraded the streets for the youngster. But about eighty-three o'clock came the climax to the incident that had aroused all the people down town. The youth, who had all unthoughtlessly caused so much pain and worry, came walking in home with a string of fish that any veteran fisherman would be proud of.

When the city council meets in regular session tonight the question as to whether or not Perkins street from Seventh street to the alley back of the county jail will be paved, will be settled.

Dr. John Lee of Winchester is here the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lee and family in West First street. He expects to locate in Denver, Colo., soon.

Miss Florence Frazier, has returned from an extended visit through the west, where she went with a concert company. For the past week she has been the guest of Miss Margaret Mitchell in Phoenix, Arizona.

Mrs. O. P. Dillon, Miss Grace Frazier and Russell Kirkpatrick were in Indianapolis yesterday and attended the "College Chap" last night.

Newcastle Courier: Masters Fred Osborne and Jerome Caron returned to Rushville this morning after having spent Sunday with the Wallaces.

Claude Simpson, editor of the Daily Republican, who has been confined to his home in North Jackson street for the past two weeks with malaria fever and pleurisy, is recovering.

Elmer Caldwell has sold a new four passenger baby tonneau Regal automobile to Joe Cowing.

City Carrier Heber Allen is suffering with an attack of the grippe. Lon Kennedy is substituting for him.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bell who have been making their home in Indianapolis are the guests of relatives in this city Mr. and Mrs. Bell will leave in about two weeks for Pensacola, Florida, where they will reside permanently. Miss Bell was formerly Miss Nola Ash of this city.

Kokomo, Ind., April 4—Preparations were being made today for a speedy trial for Harry Pierpont and Thaddeus Skeer, arrested in Detroit in connection with the hold-up of the South Kokomo bank last week. All of the bonds, amounting to $7,000, and a large part of the $4,000 in cash taken from the bank were recovered.

BY HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON — "The Metamorphosis of Mellon" might well be the title of a character study of the slender, soft-spoken secretary of the treasury, dealing with him as he was when he came to Washington four years ago and as he is today.

Official life has brought Mellon "out of his shell." As a private capitalist and financier, Mellon led a life of seclusion. His detachment was well-nigh ironclad and impenetrable. Even in his home town of Pittsburgh, he was more of a tradition than a flesh-and-blood human being. He frequented no clubs. He attended few functions. Secretaries and functionaries hedged him about with a wall of exclusiveness that made him well-nigh inaccessible.

As a member of the cabinet, Mellon's human contacts have broadened. Not only have his official duties brought him in direct touch with a greater number and a more varied range of individuals, but the social necessities of his position have assisted in the thawing out process.

Dinners, receptions, public and semi-public functions of many kinds have claimed his attendance. And while these are understood at first to have been the bane of his life, they are so no longer. Where he first endured them, he now actually enjoys them.

FRIENDS who have watched this metamorphosis in Mellon declare that he is today a younger and happier man than he has been for years. The icy reserve of the private capitalist has melted. The hard exterior of the child-steel financier has melted. He is shedding his exclusiveness. He is mixing more with men. He is getting to like folks and affairs. And what in Mellon's case is regarded as final and conclusive proof of the change that has taken place in him—he is even making public speeches! Within a week, this month, Mellon spoke at a banquet at Richmond, Va., was guest of honor at a reception at the Cosmos Club, Washington, and officiated at the burning of the mortgage on the National Press Club here. No one can imagine the Mellon of four years ago participating in any such gregarious festivities.

In the light of Mellon's apparently increasing interests in life, few folks here feel that he is even considering resigning his job, as is rumored from time to time. While admitting that he was reluctant to enter public life, they believe he would leave it now with even greater regret.

ANTI-PROHIBITIONISTS are up in arms over what they term "sacriligious" changes made in the Holy Bible in a recent "shorter version" of the Holy Writ recently issued.

The effort, according to wet advocates, has been to make a Bible to conform to what a prohibitionist thinks the Bible should be, rather than to present the true teachings of the biblical sages.

"Undoubtedly," says Stayton, "it is the plan of the dregs to replace the Holy Bible in the home with the censored Bible. But if that is true the dregs are doomed, for the original Bible says, in the last chapter of Revelation: 'If any man take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the Book of Life.'"

BASEBALL TEAMS SHOWING UP GOOD

Leaguers Displaying Fine Condition in Exhibition Games on Way From Training Camps

Have Shown Best Form

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 4—With the exception of the Chicago Cubs, all of
showing fine condition in the exhibi-
home from their training camps.

be an important factor in deciding
the pennant in each league.

The Cubs are badly handicapped
by the crippling of Rabbit Maran-
fear with when they play on sand lot diamonds and rough outfields.

strom, two of the stars of the New
will be ready to start the season.

team advanced so quickly in fact,
that John McGraw had to order
them to slow up to avoid the danger of going stale.

upon the policy of the management.
It will be recalled that the Brook-
last year in the spring, in their
games against the New York Yankees and that the Yankees looked

are listed on the 1925 schedule.
Just as interesting for discussion
are several that are not listed and
they may never be staged.

match for the world's woman's tennis championship between Miss Nelsons. Yet the Robins only missed the National League pennant by two

games and the Yankees were nosed
out by the Washington Senators.

do not like to lose a game.

game that does not count.

their exhibition games with the New
nant race. The Senators do not
seems to be a matter of world im-
the team that beat them last fall.

The Yankees are in good condition and the splendid form being shown by Babe Ruth seems to have inspired a team of players that has been rather blasé.

en Wills, the American and Olympic

champion, and Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the former Wimbledon and European champion.

Hills several years ago when Mlle.
Lenglen started to play Mrs. Molla
Mallory, the American champion,
ship.

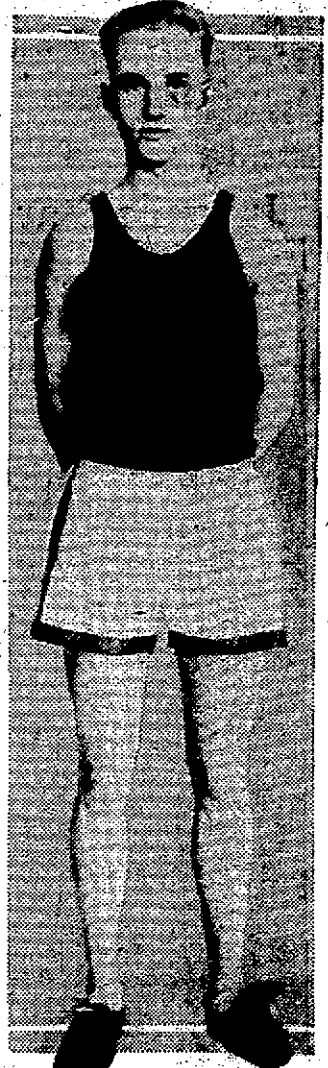

The retirement of the French star
match, her retirement in the Wim-
and her withdrawal from the Olympic championships have developed
could be arranged.

warrants a prediction that Miss Wills and Mlle. Lenglen never will
the young American girl.

culture of a lady do not permit Miss Wills to force a match for the

Two such opportunities were pre-
be arranged. Since Mlle. Lenglen
declined to go through the Wimbledon tournament and refused to enter the Olympic tennis matches,
of the competitors.

SPORT CHATTER

Chicago—Three world records fell in the monthly Illinois Athletic Club carnival here. Arne Borg, European champion, swam 880 yards in 1:24, 31 seconds faster than the old record. Miss Ethel Lackie set a new 220 yard mark of 2:45 2-5.
Conrad Mila bettered his own record for the 220 yard back stroke, making the course in 2:49 3-5.

Aurora Ill.—A purse of $100,000 for the 21 day running race meeting to be staged here starting June 4, was announced today by Clifford R. Trimbel, general manager.

Chicago—Middle western qual-

Mass., June 3 and 4.

New Haven, Conn.—Yale university will not enlarge the Yale bowl either by extension or by erection of a second tier, the athletic committee announced. It would be im-doubling the present capacity and no attempt will be made to provide seats for a comparatively few.

Boston—The Boston professional the Ben Millers Sunday in the first of a three game "national series." They were received by President Coolidge at the White House Fri-

Shreveport, La.—The Chicago White Sox are back in permanent training quarters today after a week's trip in the south. The twelfth straight exhibition game was won when the Sox took an 18 to 7 game from Louisiana state university.

New York—John McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, turned down several offers for added exhibition games to be played during a three day rest period provided in the schedule. "I'm afraid to take a chance," McGraw said.
"The team is ready to open the season now and for the first time in my career I have to find a way to keep a team from playing."

Nashville, Tenn.—Heinie Odom, a young shortstop from the University of Texas has joined the New York Yankees squad and will be given a trial. "If he has anything we may keep him as we need a good sub-shortstop," Miller Huggins, manager of the team said.

device for the home.

of her friends had owned.

product — costing less, but of much more value.

woman said, "I would never have bought this old one."

"I had just read about it in an advertisement," explained
the wise buyer.

OUR young lady is writing her social correspondence on Corona. Is this good etiquette? Lillian Eichler, author of the "Book of Etiquette," after telling how she wrote this famous book entirely with Corona, says: "My 'Book of Etiquette' encourages the use of the typewriter for social correspondence."

It is a branch of etiquette to allow letters to go unanswered for weeks, but a busy man or woman finds plenty of excuses for postponing the necessary task. With Corona at your elbow, letter-writing requires a new interest, and that is why many people of social prominence use Corona for all their correspondence. Corresponding is easier, faster and more legible than handwriting.

Corona Four costs only $60. Easy terms if desired. Call or phone for demonstration.

CLAIMS RESIDENCE IN RUSHVILLE, IND.

Hammond, Ind., April 4—Four quarts of Three Star Hennessy brought seeds of bad luck to C. Turner who says his home is at Rushville, Ind. Because of them Turner has already drawn 35 days on the penal farm and they were instrumental in placing a burglary charge against him.

Turner was tried in Hammond police court for transporting liquor and pleaded guilty hoping that would end his troubles. But it didn't. Later neighbors noticed that a window was open at the M. Rothschild home, 859 Holman st. Investigation showed some underwear and men's clothes had been stolen. In the basement four suggestive round rings were found on a shelf, indicating that the spots had recently been vacated.

Monday evening Officers Downey, Sommer and Norbeck were called to the Harrison Park neighborhood and in the course of their rounds they came upon Turner on Lyman street. He couldn't give a satisfactory account of himself so he was taken to the station. Turner had a quart of Three Star Hennessy in his pocket.

He was tried for transporting liquor and admitted his guilt. He said he brought it from Peru, Indiana, and that it was good stuff. He was given $100 and costs and 35 days.

The name of C. Turner, mentioned above, is not listed in the Rushville city directory, and is unknown here. The man has probably given a fictitious name, or has claimed Rushville as his home to divert officers from his real place of residence.

PAINFULLY BURNED

The third requirement he mentioned was initiative. No one ever dreamed anything into existence the speaker said. "The only difference between Abe Lincoln and the kid across the road, when his fire shovel was whittled away, he quit and Abe made a new one."

Devotion to the work of the kingdom was the fourth requirement laid down by Mr. Rowe. He referred to the scripture lesson, saying that Daniel was devoted and God was with him in the testing time.

The speaker closed with a reference to his experiences on the fighting line in France, and said that he wanted young people, when they met their master, to be able to say, "You ordered it, captain, and it is done."

TO MEET AGAIN AT 10 A. M.

Hartford, Conn., April 4—Gerald Chapman awoke this morning confident that he had escaped a death verdict from his hand-picked jury.

When the 12 New England veniremen were sent to bed last night by Judge Newell Jennings after deliberating to no decision for eight hours, a smile swept the face of the lean, imperturbable Chapman.

The Glee Club is made up of the best singers from among more than 3,000 students at the University, and their program last night was splendid, ranging from classical numbers to the old time melodies and the more popular numbers. The voices, twenty-four in number, blended melodiously, and each of their numbers was highly applauded. Special numbers on the program included a tenor solo, violin solo, cornet solo and trombone solo.

The orchestra numbers were very entertaining and the members proved themselves to be real musicians. They are now playing a year's engagement at the Princess Theatre in Bloomington. After the program at the auditorium, they provided music for a dance at the Social Club rooms.

Gochl shared Chapman's confidence. "It looks very favorable indeed," he said as he bade his client good night.
